TAI LAM CHUNG RESERVOIR

This month's trail will bring you to your neighbourhood, to Tai Lam Chung Reservoir. The reservoir inside Tai Lam Country Park was the first water storage facility built after the Second World War. This largely granite country park is the second largest in Hong Kong.

This hike offers beautiful scenery. It is a hot destination for hikers and picnickers and by now also for mountain bikers. There are a lot of barbecue areas along the way.

When I was young, I used to go to the reservoir with my family. It was a great place to spend time with nature and enjoy the view. The reservoir is a beautiful spot for hiking and picnicking. I hope to go back soon.
